

Bryher Bailey, Head of Global Sales and Marketing, Ambrey Risk

With over 6 years' experience in the industry, Bryher developed Ambrey's compliance system from the company's inception and now leads Ambrey's relationships with stakeholders including P&I Clubs, insurers and flag states. As Head of Sales and Marketing, she sits within Ambrey's Senior Leadership Team and is actively involved in all aspects of the business day to day. She brings an overview of the largest global client base for maritime security services and excellent connections into industry stakeholders to the SCEG Executive Committee.

Ambrey Risk is the largest provider of maritime security services in the world. Ambrey's Training Department also plays a key role in the provision of both maritime and land-based security courses worldwide.
