

JESS MCMONAGLE

S-RM (formerly Salamanca Risk Management) is a privately-owned business intelligence and risk consultancy with offices in Europe, South America, Africa, South Asia, and the Middle East. As Associate Director, Compliance, Jess is responsible for implementation of company policies and procedures across S-RM's global offices, ensuring compliance with all legal and regulatory obligations as well as industry best practice guidelines.

Jess has been working in the private security industry since 2010 and has extensive experience of managing global administrative processes with specific focus on operational quality control. She has been a SCEG Executive Committee member since January 2015 and during this time has been actively engaged on a number of key operational issues including reviews of Section 5 vetting procedures of PCASP for UK Flag vessels and the UK Open General Trade Control Licence (Maritime Anti-Piracy).
