Recruitment Case Study - February 2024

Major Defence Manufacturer

- Tasked by the client to recruit for a Regional Security Analyst as they were not confident in the abilities of their outsourced recruiting agency.
- Initial placement on our own website, MRC LinkedIn page and adverts within applicable Universities best matched in relevant and appropriate studies.
- January 2024 – Over 100 applicants all filtered through our online Recruitment Management System based on client requirements, and candidates informed throughout the process.
- Early February, the six main potential candidates received formal interviews from MRC on behalf of the client, four forwarded for next stage selection and interview by the client.
- All four diverse candidates were interviewed by the client, one was offered the position and accepted. Because of the quality of the candidates, the second placed candidate was offered an internship, male and female candidates were successful.
- Our service found the best placed candidates, saved our client time and resource, also allowed the client to remain classified.
